

Chainbuddy SR5 Chain Slings Storage Caddy

Product information

The ChainBuddy chain sling storage system not only provides for the tidy storage of chain slings, it allows for the user to easily transport chain slings to and from the crane and to directly lift and lower chain slings with minimal to no manual handling.

The ChainBuddy comes as either a standalone storage bin or with a dolly, which allows for you to easily move heavy chain slings to where you need them to be. They also come standard with a ChainBracket to support oblong links.
